

SELECTING A MEN'S MINISTRIES COORDINATOR

Organization

Our God is a God of order and it is important for us in God's service to also be organized and have orderly procedures to follow for our ministry. The organization of Men's Ministries provides a structure, or framework, within which planning and activities take place.

Coordinator

The most important attribute of the man who becomes coordinator of your Men's Ministries is to feel God has called him to this ministry. Men are often placed in this position because of their business skills, likeable nature, or willingness to serve. These are all important ingredients of a leader, but, without the call to ministry, in time the program loses focus and will suffer from mediocrity. The potential coordinator should have shown his dependability through his previous service in other areas of the church. The Men's Ministries Coordinator should be a spiritual man. Look for a man who is faithful in church attendance and prayer life, and has a willingness to serve others. The pastor and church board must pray for God's guidance in selecting the right man to fill this important position.

The Men's Ministries coordinator is responsible for the leadership, quality, and effectiveness of the Men's Ministries of the local church. He must lead by example, delegating responsibilities, and coordinating the various functions of the ministry into an effective expanded outreach of the church. His love for God and the men of the church and community is the foundation for a successful program.
