

WOMEN IN MINISTRY BREAKAWAY

VICKI MILLER
HOST AND SPEAKER

Hello Lovely Lady!

I am so excited to share this weekend with you. I believe, more than ever before that we are living in a time where we need to know that we know that God's love for us is abounding and that His love flowing through us is the driving force for everything we accomplish.

As a woman in ministry, I understand the demands of a hectic schedule, raising a family, serving the precious people to whom God has called me, and trying to appear that I have it all together. Nevertheless, you and I are human and there are things that would try to separate us from His love, just as people, spiritual opposition and circumstances came against Paul. Holding on to God, being fully grounded and anchored in Him is imperative! When we individually and collectively grab onto who He is we strengthen our entire being and gain courage and confidence to be the woman of God He created us to be.

During our breakaway, we will have fun, relax, hear from the word, share with others in similar circumstances, gain fresh ideas, AND know that we are anchored in Him through any storm life may bring. I look forward to seeing you in March!

Lovingly yours,
Vicki
