

Interns should come to camp expecting to serve.

They should be ready to handle anything the camp needs in that moment. From cleaning the chapel to presenting the Gospel, interns should expect to serve in just about every area the camp has to serve.

There will also be special ministry opportunities that will be designed specifically for the intern team.

While the work will be challenging, there will also be moments of rest & recreation that will only be available to the intern team.